Learn Spanish in Spain

acento is the Spanish language school at San Jorge University (USJ).

It was established in 2016 with the aim of offering Spanish Language courses in a university environment with a modern campus. acento also aims to be a leader in innovation in terms of both teaching methods and offering students what they need: to become fully immersed in the culture, traditions and gastronomy of Aragon.

The strategic location of Zaragoza enables students to spend their free time at weekends in different locations around Aragon practicing sports activities such as skiing, hiking, mountaineering etc.
